If you were to write an essay about the Age of Imperialism based on these documents, what would be a thesis you could defend? Which documents would be most useful as evidence?
Imperialism was beneficial to many impoverished countries because it gave them a better structure of government, education, and society. Doc. 1 & 6

Document 3:

It showed that Britain improved India all the important categories (politics, education, etc.)

What can we learn about the Age of Imperialism from these documents?

Document 1 Details: India in the nineteenth century had a more advanced system than another Asian country. It went from Delhi! Calcula production Analysis: This map and document tells us that India was the largest railroad system in Asia and has a great transportation system.	Document 2 Details: Britain were very good rule because it supplies education to all males and females, use of Indian noble literature, good politics, good transportation, and welfare Analysis: Overall British rule has been morally a great blessing, they were peaceful, and were technologically sound.
Document 5 Details: In the picture it shows the Pizarra which has China Analysis: Russian, France, Germany, Britain, and India were trying to divide up	Document 6 Details: Most countries that imperialized had selfish reasons for doing so. Documents 5, 6, 2, and 4 both support this statement.

Document 4 supports my attitude towards imperialism, because it shows that countries were plundering and taking valuable things from undeveloped countries.

Colonial economic policies and the drain on the wealth of the people.

Imperialism is when a bigger stronger country take over and controls the small countries, for power and money. I believe it is a good and bad idea. It is a good thing for the bigger countries. Because they get richer and gain more power. Its a bad for the smaller countries because they lose there power and go from being rich to being poor.

Bigger countries like Briten wanted more expansion even more power and money. In Document B it shows how Briten and Japan are fighting over china. But the chineses man is tired to a tree stump. The man representing briten, and the man representing Japan dont care if the small chinese man is alive or dead → they just want China for its rich culture and trade routes. Because of its trade routes and money Britain was stronger and very rich. It was good for Britain and the British people but not for China or the people in it.

Small countries like China didn't know the bigger countries like Japan, United States, Germany, and France were dividing up China and not caring of what and how the Chinese people felt. In document C it shows this. Because of Imperialism small countries suffered from poor living areas and lack of money and food. China didn't have their own rights or powers any more. It was not fair to any of the people.

~~_____~~
This is why imperialism is a good idea for bigger countries but bad for smaller weaker countries. Imperialism is a way to get money
and power.

• British is still higher power and powerful.

Doc. F. - • Great Britain builds postal service, telegraph in India

• builds schools

How was a Country affected by imperialism?

- in so countries the society was better like india because they have school and created telegraphs and postal service

- it was also bad because with all the opium china was getting it was getting easier to take over when all of china was high off the walls.

- bad because the countries who defeated the countries the people living there the classes change poor people become even more poor

- Briten took over china and made china the poorest of the poor

- Countries who take over a country the people who move into the defeated country always has a better life.
